POETRY.

A NAME IN HEAVEN.

BY ROBERT MORRIS, LL. D..

[In James' Anxious Enquirer occurs the following suggestive thought: "Could we see the secret lists of God's friends, we should find no blots or erasures there."]

I tremble as I ask,
"Is my name there?"
Once on a brighter day
I seemed to hear Him say:
"Cast off thy care,
My triumphs share,
My blood hath sprinkled thee divine,
And thou, poor mourner, art forever mine."

But I'm a mourner yet;
My years decline;
Nearer each day to death
I draw the painful breath;
The nights close in,
I weep and pine,
And fear if ever I was His,
I'd forfeited my seat in heavenly bliss.

An answer I must have—
"Is my name there?"
Oh, if Thou wilt respond
And say, "It is," what fond Delights I'll share!
What burdens bear!
No cross too heavy for the load
Of him whose name is written with his God.

Surely, upon thy hands,
Oh, Son of God,
And on that crimson tide
That stained thy pierced side,
The thorn, the rod,
The pathway trod
Up Calvary's hights, my name was traced,
In living lines that cannot be erased.

So I will trust in thee:
Weary and slow,
Ever midst gloom and care,
Yet never quite despair—
Weary and slow
I'll go, I'll go
My appointed time that Thou hast given,
In hopes that Christ hath writ my name in Heaven.

INTEMPERANCE AND CRIME.

BY REV. J. S. SMART.

In showing in a former lecture that the drunkard making business is productive of murder, I incidentally referred to the fact that it is productive of crime in general. This I desire to make a special point at this time. It might be inferred indeed that the highest would include all other crimes and that a business that was productive of murder would be morally certain to produce all minor offences. The business itself familiarizes the mind with crime.

Crime is a violation of law; and this business just as truly violates law as theft or murder. Those who carry it on lose all their regard for the sanctities of law. As they trample upon the authority of the state they learn to despise it. By continual association with the profligate and the vile, their moral sense becomes blunted, and the higher sanctions of the divine law become a by word, and a hissing to them. They soon get so that they neither fear God, nor regard man. They do sometimes feel guilty and ashamed of their business; but by smothering their consciences and hardening their hearts, and putting on a brazen face, they soon descend very nearly to the level of beasts of prey, and learn really to delight in it. They know that they live upon degraded characters, ruined fortunes, and broken hearts; but they will tell you every man must take care of himself. So they take care of themselves at the expense of the happiness and even the lives of their victims. They become so accustomed to human misery that they look upon it without emotion, or at least without sympathy. They may sometimes feel a slight emotion of disgust. But they often become so hardened as to ridicule the miseries of their victims. They become so accustomed to taking a man's money without giving any proper equivalent, that they lose, in a great measure, that regard for the rights of property which keeps men in general from being thieves, and robbers, and burglars. There is every reason therefore why these drunkard making establishments should become hot beds of crime.

Our city has been lately visited by burglars. Would you like to know where they rendezvous? They are generally to be found in these dens of infamy. Under our present policy we ought to expect crime. We ought not to expect our lives, or our property to be safe. If we do not regard the laws ourselves enough to enforce them, when they are violated before our eyes in open day, what can we expect from men who are only deterred from crime by the penalties of law? If these places are allowed to exist contrary to law, ought we to be surprised that all sorts of unlawful deeds grow up in them?

By allowing them to exist we cast contempt upon all law and give license to crime. This is certainly debauching and demoralizing the community. Taking this view of the subject, it seems to me, that the duty of every true man in reference to this business is perfectly plain.

That drunkard-making establishments, under any circumstances, are hot-beds of crime, has been abundantly proved. They begin to corrupt the morals of their victims very early in life.

Many are initiated into the mystery of their iniquity when they are mere children. Sir A. Alison says of the records of the Glasgow Refuge: "These highly curious annals of crime show, in the clearest manner the fatal influence of the drinking of whisky upon the lowest classes, for out of 234 boys at present in the institution, it appears from their own account that 72 had drunken fathers, 62 had drunken mothers, and 69 had fathers and mothers both drunken, so that upwards of two-thirds of the whole boys have been precipitated into crime through the habits of intoxication of one or both parents. The boys all state that till they were taken into the House of Refuge they lived two-thirds of their time in low public houses in the centre of Glasgow, and their enjoyments there were drinking, smoking and swearing."

Should you visit our Reform School at Lansing, or our House of Correction in Detroit, you would find substantially the same state of things. The records of these juvenile prisons and reform schools, afford multitudes of examples like the following:

A child burglar nine years of age, says, "My mother is dead; my father often got drunk. He used to lick us with a rope; he used to bring women into the house, drinking. I have broken into two houses. I got into the last one through the back door about twelve at night. I went up stairs into the man's bedroom, and took 13s. 6d from his pocket. I bought something to eat with the money. I slept out every night."

There are thousands of just such boys as that in this country. They are mostly found in our great cities. Sometimes their drunken parents send them out to beg and steal, and flog them terribly if they come home empty-handed.

The Edinburgh Review, treating of this class of criminals says, "Has society no share in the condemnation, and the guilt of this soul? Has the law—so prompt in punishing the child, but which leaves unchallenged the drunken, vicious, cruel parent, by whom the child was forced into the gulf of crime—nothing to answer for? Are not the authorities who have contentedly allowed such haunts of infamy as he was bred in to continue in the very heart of our towns, and whose indifference to the moral circumstances of the laboring poor has fostered these nurseries and schools of crime, part authors and abettors of the boy's depravity?

How is it in our own community? How many nurseries and schools of crime have we?

Where do our boys learn their blasphemies and obscene jests? Where are they initiated into all the mysteries of gambling and every other vice? How contentedly do our authorities allow these haunts of infamy to continue their work of corrupting the morals of the young? The law is right, but our authorities are too indifferent, too unprincipled, or too imbecile to enforce it. Are not they part authors and abettors of the depravity of our youth? As Dickens says of the 17,000 juvenile offenders in England, "There is not one of these, not one, but sows a harvest that mankind must reap. From every seed of evil in this boy, a field of ruin is growing that shall be gathered in, and garnered up, and sown again in many places in the world until regions are overspread with wickedness enough to raise the waters of another deluge."

With how much more propriety may the words which he applies to the boy be applied to the place where he is ruined. "There is not one of these, not one, but sows a harvest that mankind must reap." And what a harvest! Boys educated in these schools of infamy and vice will make dangerous and desperate men. It is much easier, and a hundred fold cheaper to prevent crime than to punish it. Is it possible that our authorities who neglect to enforce the law even against the vilest of Sabbath desecrations, do not understand this? We are doing our utmost by our day schools and Sabbath schools to train our children to habits of virtue and to prepare them to become good and useful citizens. But in many cases all our work is counteracted by these schools of vice. Is it true that those we have elected to be our public servants will refuse to enforce the laws against these corrupters of our youth? We shall see.

WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT.

Do the politicians know that the people are getting tired of their endless wrangling which results in nothing?

The American people are a practical people; they want to get things done. They tire of reasoning, however fine, which produces no result; and so it happens just now that men of all parties, in their hearts curse Mr. Johnson, who has got himself entangled inextricably in a maze of logical and illogical assumptions, and puts out words of little or no meaning, in great abundance, and to no purpose whatever.

It is so cheap to abuse Mr. Johnson, that we have left that task to others; but it is impossible to repress the annoyance with which he afflicts all who desire to see the country brought speedily out of its present dangerous and suffering condition.

At home all enterprise lags, industry is cramped, new undertakings pause the public is daily alarmed with portentous rumors of what will next happen or be done at Washington, and whoever is not a speculator in Wall street is an unhappy man. Abroad our credit is lowered, our bonds are held ready to send back upon us in millions, our good name and the credit of democratic government suffer. In the Southern states. where both capital and labor are needed, neither can be coaxed, because of the uncertainty of the future. And all this for what? Because Mr. Johnson hates the politicians who foolishly nominated him to the Vice Presidency, because these will not let him do as he likes; because he became so accustomed, down in Tennessee, to making political difference a personal matter, and carrying his point by obstinacy, that now he is unhappy except in the opposition.

He occupied, once, very tenable and proper ground. He asserted that it was most necessary, for the good of the country that the work of reconstruction should be completed as soon as possible. In that the country agreed with him; while he adhered to that point, even the greater part of the Republican party was on his side. For the whole country saw that it was for the general welfare that we should get back as quickly as possible to the old ways of peace.

Mr. Johnson asserted that his way was the quickest way. So it was, until it was rejected by the people. It was so rejected, and that entirely, we are bound to say, through his own mistakes, and the bad spirit shown by the old politicians of the Southern states, whom he encouraged to the preposterous hope that they would be permitted to resume at once their former power, and to oppress the freedmen.

When the country rejected Mr. Johnson's plan of reconstruction, that plainly ceased to be the quickest method. If he had been a wise and clear-headed man, really intent upon the speediest possible reconstruction, he would have said, after last fall's elections: "Very well, you reject this plan. I am still, as before, for the speediest possible reconstruction." This is what the Evening Post advised him to do; and no one doubts that if he had met Congress in December, in that spirit, he could have exercised an exercised an important influence upon its determinations, and he could have persuaded the Southern people to adopt at once the Constitutional Amendment. As a consequence, all the States would have been represented in the last Congress, and the country would have been at peace.

But instead of that he lost his head, forsook the great vantage ground he had, and obstinately adhered to the rejected plan. He gave up to his opponents the one tenable ground he had, and the "radicals," as he calls them, are now, those whourge the speedy completion of the work of reconstruction, while Mr. Johnson, unhappily for himself, is the chief obstruction to the accomplishment of this great and ardently-desired good.

So strongly is his false position felt, by all except himself, that even the Democrats, except a few purblind politicians, like Black, of Pennsylvania, have openly abandoned him, and refuse to have part or lot with him; in the Southern States a great part, and the wisest and most respectable part of the whites is opposed to him; and it would almost seem that he issued his latest amnesty proclamation solely to create a party for himself, and save himself from utter abandonment and solitude. But what a commentary on his mistaken course is it, that he finds his only friends among the very politicians who brought on the rebellion, the conspirators who plotted the ruin of our country!

Nothing is more certain than that the country ardently longs to have the work of reconstruction completed. The people see with alarm their public affairs fall more and more into disorder; they see the taxes not collected; they see enormous frauds in the revenue offices; they feel the injury of a wasteful complex and injurious tax system; they hear questions such as repudiation, loosely and flippantly discussed; they are mortified at the poor credit of the country abroad, and, turning to Washington, they behold the President heedless of all these momentous public interests, intent only on spiting the radicals and delaying reconstruction.

Dr. McGilliway, a naturalist and author of some distinction, died in Sydney, New South Wales, in June last.

A WONDERFUL STORY.

The following log-book story may seem almost incredible, and it has lost nothing of that quality by age and repetition:

In the course of the voyage, that dreadful disease, the ship fever, broke out among the crew. One of the sailors, among the first victims, was accompanied by his son, a lad of fourteen years, who was strongly attached to his father, and remained with him day and night, and never could be persuaded to leave him for a moment.

A large shark was seen following the ship every day, evidently for the purpose of devouring any one who should die and be committed to the deep.

After lingering a few days the sailor died. As was the custom at sea, he was sewed up in a blanket, and for the purpose of sinking him an old grindstone and a carpenter's ax were put in with it. The very impressive service of the Episcopal Church was then read and the body committed to the deep.

The poor boy, who had watched the proceedings closely, plunged in after his father, when the enormous shark swallowed them both. The second day after this dreadful scene, after the shark continued to follow the vessel (for there were others sick in the ship), one of the sailors proposed, as they had a sharp hook on hand, to make an effort to take him.

They fastened the hook to a long rope, and baiting it with a piece of pork, threw it into the sea, and the shark instantly swallowed it. Having thus hooked him, by means of a windlass, they hoisted him on board. After he was dead they prepared to open him, when one of the sailors, stooping down for that purpose, suddenly paused and after listening a few moments declared most solemnly that he heard a low gutteral sound, which appeared to proceed from the shark. The sailors, after enjoying a hearty laugh at his expense, proceeded to listen for themselves, when the mystety was explained.

It appears that the sailor was not dead, but in a trance; and his son, on making this discovery when inside the shark, had by means of a knife ripped open the blanket. Having thus liberated his father, they both went to work and righted up the old grindstone—the son was turning, the father was holding the old ship carpenter's ax, sharpening it for the purpose of cutting their way out of their Jonah-like prison, which occasioned the noise heard by the sailor. As it was the hottest season of the year, and very little air stirring where they were at work, they were both sweating tremendously.

A CASE OF HORSEWHIPPING.—A few weeks since a man named Rigler, who lives on Mayberry avenue discovered that his three little girls were afflicted with what is usually denominated prickly heat, and applied to a Dr. Smith for medical assistance. He applied to their bodies an ointment which in a few days time produced salivation, and the teeth of the eldest commenced falling out. Smith was called, but appeared indifferent in the matter, merely remarking that she would be well in a few days, but such was not the case, for her bodily health became greatly impaired, and the glands of her throat were badly swollen. The doctor was again summoned and the girl brought forward for him to examine her mouth, which he did, when she said, "There, doctor, your medicine has done that," upon which he flew in a passion and with the use of oaths said, "It is a lie," at the same time shaking his fist in her face. The father who was present, then seized a whip and gave him a severe castigation, continuing the operation for the distance of three or four blocks, for which offense he was arrested and tried at the police court on Wednesday. A number of witnesses were examined, and amongst others Dr. Leach, who was called to see the girl a few days subsequently, and who testified to the condition of her mouth and throat. The jury brought in a verdict of assault and battery, but strongly recommended him to the mercy of the court, which sentenced to pay a fine of $10. There will probably be a suit for mal practice brought against Smith, as it came out upon his trial that he had never received a diploma, and was not an authorized practitioner. Drs. Lodge and Leach were both called in to examine the condition of the child and found it as stated above.—Detroit Post.

IMPROVING TIME.

A clergyman who enjoys the substantial benefits of a fine farm, was slightly taken down a few days ago by his plowman, who was sitting at his plow, in a tobacco field, resting his horse. The reverend gentlemen, being an economist, said, with great seriousness:

"John, wouldn't it be a good plan for you to have a stub scythe here and be cutting a few bushes along the fence while the horses are resting?"

John, with quite as serious a countenance as the divine himself, said:

"Wouldn't it be well, sir, for you to have a tub of potatoes in the pulpit and when they are singing, to peel 'em awhile to be ready for the pot?"

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1867.

CURRENT EVENTS.

The Garibaldians are pursuing their successes. They have severed communication between Rome and Florence. The Italian press and people almost unanimously clamor for the occupation of Rome by the Italian government.

Napoleon, true to his instincts, is interfering. Were it not for this trampler of liberty, his dire influence upon Victor Emanuel the Italian people would make short work of the Papal Government.

12,000 petitioners ask the Pope to permit the occupation of the city by Italian troops. It will be a grand step in human progress to see the "Eternal City" free from Papal dominion.

Garibaldi has escaped from Caprera where he has been held as a prisoner. He will, no doubt, head the revolutionists concentrating on Rome.

The trial of Jeff. Davis is reported on the tapis.

The election in Virginia has been a very exciting one. Doubt hangs over the result, though it looks as if the Conservatives had prevailed. Gov. Brownlow is elected United States Senator in Tennessee.

Returns received at Gen. Schofield's headquarters show conclusively that the State has voted in favor of a Convention. It is also certain that the Convention will be Radical by 15 majority. This city elected the following Radicals, after a three day contest: Hunicutt, Judge Underwood, Morrisey, and two colored men. The Radicals did not receive 50 white voters in the city, nor did the Conservatives receive 50 colored votes.

Mrs. Lincoln's wardrobe business is the butt of ridicule on the part of Democrats and mortifying to all the friends of her lamented husband. He left her a handsome property and there was no necessity for auctioneering off her property. We never had any confidence in her womanhood.

Chief Justice Chase is to assist Judge Underwood in the trial of Jeff Davis. Gen. Sheridan is still receiving enthusiastic receptions. The Union Republican clubs in Philedelphia announce Grant as their candidate.

The Chairman read the following communication from the County Treasurer:

WASHTENAW COUNTY TREASURER'S OFFICE, Ann Arbor, Oct. 16, '67.

To the Hon. Board of Supervisors of Washtenaw County:

I would respectfully submit to your consideration the accompanying document from the Auditor General's office, showing the amount of rejected taxes charged back to the County of Washtenaw.

I would also state that the 3d, 4th and 5th Wards, City of Ann Arbor, failed to raise the amount of tax apportioned to the district for the year 1866, there being a deficiency on the roll of one hundred and twenty-four dollars and forty-five cents ($124 45.)

The tax roll of the Township of Freedom was also deficient for same year ($16 65) sixteen dollars and sixty-five cents. The tax roll of the City of Ypsilanti, 3d, 4th and 5th Wards, was also deficient to the amount of ($24 10) twenty-four dollars and ten cents.

It would seem that justice in the case would require the amount to be assessed back upon the several wards and townships with per cent interest, as the county has to pay the State the amount with interest, all of which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. S. WHEELER,
Dep. Co. Treasurer.

Mr. Gilbert moved, That so much as relates to deficiency in last year's tax rolls be referred to Committee on Rejected Taxes, with instructions to re-assess the same, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Winegar moved, That so much as relates to rejected taxes be referred to the same committee, which was agreed to.

Mr. Lay read communications from the Prosecuting Attorney of Kalamazoo County, and from John Baker ex Sheriff of Kalamazoo Co, in relation to a reward offered by Sheriff Winegar of this county, for the apprehension of the robbers of the Post Office at Dexter, claiming that said reward should be paid to ex-Sheriff Baker.

Mr. Winegar stated that Mr. Frink, an ex deputy Sheriff of Kalamazoo Co. also claimed the reward, and moved that the Clerk be directed to write to each of the claimants to forward the proofs in their respective cases which motion was carried.

Mr. Childs moved that each Supervisor report the amount of Volunteer Relief orders issued by him since the last annual session to a committee of three, which motion was agreed to, and the Chair appointed Messrs Childs, Babcock and Haight.

Mr. Gilbert moved that the copy of proceedings to be furnished by the reporter for publication, be given to the person designated by the Board to publish the same in pamphlet form, which motion was carried.

DARK CIRCLES AND SPIRITS PHENOMENA!

A NUT FOR SPIRITUALISTS TO CRACK!

A correspondent, whose truth and veracity is without doubt, and who is personally acquainted with a gentlema well known as a medium for physical manifestions, informs us that his friend after a faithful and untiring investigation of Spirit Phenomena as manifested in Dark Circles, and which deludes thousands of persons, isa monstrous cheat! This medium, whose name it is not politic to mention here, has been tried and tested in all conceivabe ways, both public and private, during the past year, eluding detection, and confounding the most rabidly skeptical. Having run the gauntlet of test, scrutiny and examination according to the rules prescribed for detection by Proffessors Sands and Grims, and other truth-seeking men, the mystery remains unsolved.

This gentleman will visit this city very shortly, and will give explanatory lectures upon this Spirits Phenomena; will hold light and drak sceances, both public and private, evidencing to the senses of his audiences that Spirits neither tie or untie ropes, do not play musical instruments, do not by a "chemical process known only to Spirits," disolve iron and seperate woolen and other garments, to put rings, coats etc., ect., an the medium's body while tied to a chair; do not ring bells nor play a tamborine; do not touch mortals with fingers, nor show their hands, nor, rap, nor lift or move ponderable bodies. But that the whole, backed up by what ever party or per sons it may be, is JUGGLERING, requiring no very smart persons to perform; that this so-calied Spirit Phenomena is a huge wen on the throat of all religious life, a flagrant and too successful a cheater of reasons, and inflamer of the imagination, a social blight, a domestic ghost, and unworthy the credit of the most untaught and simple!

Printers devils are generally great ladies' men, notwithstanding they have a very hard name. Some time ago one of those hard-named fellows and his lady-love were taking an evening stroll, and as they were walking along chattering briskly upon the numerous topics of the day, she suddenly caught his hand, and looking smillingly into his face, asked: "Do you know why I cannot get religion?" "No, my dear, I do not." "It is because I love the devil."

A genius living in California made a nerve and bone all-healing salve, and thought he would experimentalize a little with it. He first cut off his dog's tail and applied some of the salve to the stump; a new tail grew immediately. He then applied some to the piece of tail which he cut off and a new dog grew out. He did not know which dog was which.

The Potatoe Crop.

We visited this week, a few farms on the west Monroe road and also on the plains. The farmers are busy harvesting potatoes. We met on the Monroe road a large number of teams loaded with as nice potatoes as ever grew. The yield is not large, but the quality is extra. Considerable territory is covered. We found Mr. A. Drury at work with his hands in a 15 acre lot, 14 acres potatoes and one acre of beans. Mr. Milo Benham on the old Redner farm showed us some splendid potatoes, a new kind, large red potatoes. We trust Mr. B. will save all he has this year for seed. The yield is much better than the peachblow, and Mr. B. assures us a nice table article. The Densmores Bros. have a fair yield. Mr. Hall has a fine crop. We are indebted per the Dr. to the ladies of the household for a most excellent dinner on the hygienic system. It would gladden Dr. Jackson to know that his influence in securing a healthy inviting diet is benefiting many who never listened to his eloquent voice, pleading for the rights of the physical man. On the plains Mr. Wm. McGraw has 12 acres. Mr. A. Loomis expects to harvest 1,000 bushels. Mr. E. C. Peck is turning out a liberal crop, and other parties are doing their share to meet the increasing demands of the market. At 60 cents per bushel the farmers cannot complain. Farming is to-day the best business a man can enter upon. Young men pressing into other professions, better pause and reflect. The current must be turned and the ranks in this ennobling and manly and above all others the most honorable occupation, be filled up.

A Suprise

We have received the following communication from the recent pastor of the Congregational Church in Augusta, now at Grand Blanc:

A surprise, most perfect at the parsonage Congregational Church (Rev. S. D. Breed pastor) on the evening of the 15th inst. At an early hour, a large company assembled, took possession of the house, having all their own way; the evening was socialy spent together with music with which the people seem to be filled, and tables groaning or loaded, with good things added not a little to the pleasantness of the occasion, and the company dispersed with warm adieus, &c. On going into the cellar the next morning the pastor found some one had entered from the back door, and left behind them meat and other eatables, vegetables, and friuts, from tomatoes to wheat, Such kind regard can never be forgotten by him, and may the good Father reward them with more enduring substance and bless abundantly. Yours truly.

SAMUEL D. BREED.

Fruit Trees.

Mr. Henry Steller has been delivering a very choice lot of Nursery Stock for the past few days at the Hawkins Hotel, such as apples, pears, cherries, peaches, and grapes and roses from the well known firm of Gould Beckwith & Co. of Rochester N. Y. We never saw a finer assortment of trees, straight, thrifty and handsome. He has a box of $75,00 worth intended to adorn our beautiful Highland Cementry. We understand Mr. Steller intends making it a business to furnish our citizens with all kinds of Nursery fruit trees.

Dancing School at Hewitt Hall.

Mr. Stoddard assured the public that the delinquences of teachers in the past in not fulfilling their engagments will not be imitated by him but he will if required deposit the tuition money in the Bank until his engagement are fulfiled. Call and see me this eveing. See advertisment. O. Stoddard.

Temperance Fast

Our neighbor is out against the Fast on observed Thursday last by the friends of temperance. Only think of Charley Woodruff dictating to religious people about fasting, and prayer. He can hardly be expected to appreciate the subject, It is not in his line.

A NOVEL ILLUSTRATION OF THE BENEFITS OF ADVERTISING—Chicago and Buenos Ayres, South America.—Much has been said and much written in regard to the advantages to business men of a liberal course of advertising, and while proofs are not wanting of the wisdom of such a policy, it has remained for Chicago, foremost in all enterprises, to furnish an illustration of its benefits which deserves to become historical, marking, as it does, an era in western enterprise. That Chicago, located nearly a thousand miles from the seaboard, with so many large towns intervening, which makes the manufacture of iron a speciality—that this western city should have distanced competitors with such manifest advantages in their favor, and should now be receiving immense orders for goods to be shipped past them to South American ports, will excite no ordinary surprise and admiration of the restless energy of the metropolis of the west.

Among the many machines of merit manufactured at the Richards Iron Works of this city, is the celebrated Power Corn Sheller; and Mr. Richards conceived the bold and original idea of creating a foreign demand for them; and, studying the productions of the different South American States, he learned that they were largely engaged in the production of corn. It was only an experiment, but through the advertising agency of Messrs. Cook, Coburn & Co., of this city, an advertisement was inserted some months since, in a paper published in Buenos Ayres, at an expense of about one hundred dollars in gold, in which his corn sheller was recommended as the best ever manufactured. The venture soon proved a good one, and bore its legitimate fruits. The attention of some large operators was called to these machines, and they instructed their New York agents to make thorough investigations as to their merits, and should their inquiries result favorably, to ship several of them at once. This was done, and the order was filled. The result has been, that the machines have given such perfect satisfaction that the aforesaid agent in New York has recently negotiated for one hundred of the machines, be shipped as soon as possible for the South American market, a nice little transaction of over $30,000. These are simple facts, and tell their own story, comment being entirely unnecessary.—Chicago Times.

Ancient Fine Arts.

To the Editor of the New York Herald:

Respecting the relics of porcelain found in the late exhumations at Herculaneum, which have been forwarded to the Society of Antiquities in London, whereof your correspondent says the bottle resembling Drake's Plantation Bitters was undoubtedly placed among the ruins by the agent of Dr. Drake, we desire to state he is incorrect in every respect. If a bottle was found there bearing our lettering, the language of the Ancient Romans was different from the accepted literature of that day. Our agent has othbusiness than this in Europe, and has not been in Italy at all. No doubt Americans carry Plantation Bitters to Rome; but trying to impose upon a society of Antiquarians in this way, seems quite useless, and we do not appreciate the joke. It is unnecessary for us to spend money in Europe while we are unable to supply the demand for these celebrated Bitters here.

Respectfully,
P. H. DRAKE & CO.

BISCUIT A LUXURY FOR ALL.—The popular notion that people suffering from dyspepsia or predisposed to that disease, should not eat biscuit has grown out of the fact that the common Saleratus has been used in the making of such biscuit. And it is right; the article is mischievous. But light and healthy biscuit such as dyspeptic people may eat with impunity and with positive benefit, are made from D. B. De Land & Co,' Best Chemical Saleratus. Physicians admit this.

MONEY COULD NOT BUY IT.—We have had in our family one of your machines for the last seven years; and have never seen anything that could offer any inducement to exchange for it. Money could not take it from us—only vs money would buy another.—[Letter at the Rev. W. G. HURBARD, Wilson, N. Y. Feb. 13, 1866, to Wilcox & and Gibbs S. M. Co.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.—Smith's Saleratus is pronounced by all good judges of nice, light, sweet, spongy bread, to be the "ne plus ultra of scientific attainments. The culinary department throughout the entire west, is pleased to note this great success, and all good house-keepers use none but Smith's Saleratus, ☞ Keep your feet dry, wear good shoes keep them well stuffed with oil, and well mended, and then if you are unfortunate enough to get a Cough or Cold use Coe's Cough Balsam to cure it. It will do it every time.

It is also important that our readers should all know that Coe's Dyspepsia Cure is reliable and certain to cure the worst cases of Dyspepsia; a teaspoonful a day of it will enable the most confirmed dyspeptic to eat anything he chooses without trouble. It is an excellent remedy for any disease of the stomach or bowels.

EIGHT OZ.—NOT FOUR.—Every bottle of "Barett's Hair Restorative" contains eight oz.—not four, as in Preparations put up in a similar style.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.—That it pays to advertise is a fact that is pretty well established. Geo. M. West, editor of the Brandon (Wis.) Times, gives his opinion in this wise:—"Does it pay to advertise? Our experience teaches us that it does. A few days ago we advertised for a boy to learn the printer's trade. Imagine our surprise (!) on Monday morning, on finding at our domicile an applicant weighing just eight pounds and a half. We would not guarantee to all, such return, by patronizing the printer, but this is one instance where it was a success.

CHEAPEST ROUTE EASTWARD.—Passengers for New York, Boston and New England cities, will be glad to learn that the Erie Railway are yet issuing First-Class Tickets to New York at $2,70 less than rival Lines. The present authorized rates of the Company are: from Dunkirk to New York, $8,00; Buffalo to New York, $6,75; and Salamanca to New York, $7.-25. To secure the benefits of these reduced rates, passengers should obtain tickets to Dunkirk, Buffalo or Salamanca, instead of purchasing through coupon tickets to New York; and when at Dunkirk, Buffalo or Salamanca, procure a ticket for the remainder of their journey, at the Erie Railway Company's Offices, which are always open on the arrival of the trains of all Western and Southern Lines. The comfort and pleasure to be derived from a trip in on one of those luxurious rolling places of the Erie Railway, aside from the astonishing low rates of fare, should induce our merchants and others to take this route when going to New York or New England, in perferance to all others. 189

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A man some time since was repairing a gas leak, corner of 28th Street and 6th Avenue, New York. He went into the excavation and then lit a match. An explosion of the gas took place, and the man was much burned. DR. TOBIAS' Venetian Liniment was applied freely, and in three days the man was about his business in the Manhattan Gas Works as well as ever. His name is Samuel F, Waters. This is one of the wonderful cures made by DR, TOBIAS' celebrated Venetian Liniment; it is not only good for Burns, but for Old Sores, Bruises, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throats, Cuts, Insect Stings, Pains in the Limbs, Chest and Back; also internally, for Colic, Cramps, Diarhœa, Dysentery, and Croup. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is the best family medicine in the world. Orders are received all over Europe for it. The most celebrated Physicians recommend it—it never fails. DR. TOBIAS puts up every drop himself, Sold by all Druggists at 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Depot 56 Cortlandt Street, N. Y. 189 4w.

AYER'S PILLS.

ARE you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order—your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the precursors of serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and drive out the humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructedly, in health. They stimulate the organs of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and deranges the natural operations of that part. This, if not relieved, will react upon itself and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and derangement. While in this condition, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health. What is true and so apparant in this trivial and common complaint is also true in many of the deep seated and dangerous diseases. The same purgative expels them. Caused by similar obstruction and derangements they are surely, and many of them rapidly, cured by the same means. None who know the virtue of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentery, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, Constipation, Heart-burn, Rheumatism Dropsy, Worms, and Suppression, when taken in large doses.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them easily, and they are surely the best purgative medicine yet discovered.

AYER'S AGUE CURE.

For the speedy and certain cure of Intermittent Fever, or Chills and Fever, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers; indeed, for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the malaria of miasmatic countries.

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and it has this great advantage over other Ague medicines, that it subdues the complaint without injury to the patient. It contains no quinine or other deleterious substance, nor does it produce quinism or any injurious effect whatever. Shaking brothers of the army and the west, try it and you will endorse these assertions.

Prepared by DR. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowel Mass., and sold by all Druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere.

SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC.

This medicine, invented by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyme, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWEED TONIC and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. SCHENCK makes professional visits in New York, Boston, and at his principal Office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place, or his pamphlet on consumption for his days for visitation.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of Consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, price $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half-dozen. All letters for advice should be addressed to Dr. SCHENCK'S Principal Office, No. 15 North 6th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AN INVALUABLE REMEDY

FOR THE PURIFYING OF THE BLOOD

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

HUMOR DOCTOR.

A Positive Remedy for all kinds of Humors,

PARTICULARLY

Erysipelas, Nettle-Rash, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Carbuncles, Boils, and Piles.

It is very easy to say of this, or of any other medicine, "It is the very best remedy known." It is not always so easy to prove it. It is, however, exceedingly gratifying to the Proprietor of this medicine, that, while he delares to the public that this is a most wonderful and effective specific for Humors, as stated above, he has abundant proof at hand to sustain his statement.

For sixteen years the HUMOR DOCTOR has been manufactured and sold, and every year has increased the value of its reputation, and the amount of its sales. In New Hampshire, where it originated, no remedy for Humors is so highly prized. An eminent physician (now an army surgeon) when practising in New Hampshire, purchased between fifty and sixty gallons of it, during some seven or eight years, and used it in his practice. He has since then ordered it for the hospital where he was stationed. Other physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success. When the Proprietor lived in New Hampshire, at Goffstown Centre, for the space of thirty or forty miles around, and in Manchester particularly, the HUMOR DOCTOR was well known and highly valued for the numerous and wonderful cures which it effected. Though manufactured in large quantities the supply was frequently exhausted, and purchasers had to wait for more to be made. In that region some very severe cases of Erysipelas were treated with it—and they were cured! Erysipelas sores, or carbuncles, those ugly, painful ulcers, were entirely removed wherever this medicine was faithfully used. So it was with Scrofula and Salt Rheum. The HUMOR DOCTOR cured them.

For the sake of showing what is thought of it, a few testimonials are here inserted:

Milton Gale, Esq., Boston.

I hereby certify that I was sorely afflicted with Boils for two years, developing themselves upon my limbs and other parts of my body. The sufferings which I endured from them are indescribable. Suffice it to say that I faithfully tried several of the most popular humor remedies, but without removing the affliction. At length, by the earnest request of an intimate friend, I was induced to try Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor, and am very happy to attest that all my Boils were removed, and my health was restored by using Dr. Poland's aforesaid medicine.

BOSTON, Jan. 14, 1856. MILTON GALE.

Mrs. Wheeler, Stoneham, Mass.

I very confidently and earnestly recommend Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor as an excellent remedy for Humors, having been wonderfully benefited by it myself. My own case was a very severe and obstinate one. For more than two years the skin upon the inside of both my hands, and even down on the wrist, was constantly cracked and broken up, so that I was unable to use my hands in any kind of wet work, and was obliged to wear gloves in sewing to avoid getting blood upon my work. The humor which so afflicted me was probably a combination of Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. My general health was quite poor. Soon after I began to use the Humor Doctor I could perceive signs of healing. I continued to take the medicine till I was finally cured. My hands are now perfectly free from humors, and to all appearances my whole system is clear of it, and has been for several months. I used eight bottles before I felt safe to give it up entirely, but they cured me.

DOVER, N. H., July 22, 1855.

DR. POLAND: I received your letter inquiring as to the effects of your medicine on sea-sickness. I am happy to say that I think it is "the medicine" for that dreadful sickness. I tried various prescriptions, but found none that settled the stomach and cleared the head like the Humor Doctor. I felt as though I could hardly wait to get ashore, to entreat you to introduce it into ship chandlery stores, that it may find its way to those who suffer upon the mighty deep from sea-sickness. If captains who take their families with them, or carry passengers, should try it for once, they would never be willing to voyage without it.

Yours, HARRIET M. PORTER.

Much more might be stated in relation to this medicine, as contained in testimonials, but it is needless. Ask Manchester druggists about it, especially E. W. Blake, at Barr's. Inquire of Mr. Henry Plumer, of Bedford, whose wife was cured by it of Salt Rheum. Ask almost any person in Goffstown, and they will declare its value as a remedy, as used in their own cases or by their friends.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Has stood the test of seven years trial by the public; and no preparation for the hair yet discovered will produce the same beneficial results. It is a new scientific discovery, combining the most powerful and restorative agents in the VEGETABLE KINGDOM. It restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon bald heads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Renewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehoods, by claiming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them! Purchase the original: it has never been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.

THE AMERICAN COOKING STOVE

After twenty years experience in the manufacture of stoves, we became convinced, some six years since, that a vast amount of money was being expended by the people of this country, in buying cheap and almost worthless stoves, a large portion of which was wasted; and that true economy consisted in buying the best stoves that could be made, notwithstanding the price was higher. With this view we proceeded to construct the American Cooking Stove, and spared no pains or expense to make it the best and most perfect stove that could be made. And we have experimented with it, and carefully watched its operation for the last six years, and when an improvement suggested itself, we have at once adopted it, and we have several of these improvements secured by letters patent. In this manner, we do not hesitate to say, we have brought it to a higher state of perfection than has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves. The recent improvements in this stove has added largely to its convenience and effectiveness. In all the varieties of stoves we manufacture, we study usefulness, durability, convenience and economy in operation, rather than cheapness in price, and in so doing we are satisfied we study the interest of those purchasing our stoves.

REPORT of Special Committee, to whom was referred the memorial of T. T. Lyon and Sanford Howard, relative to the preservation of forest trees.

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

Under the reign of Augustus, the forests which protected the Cevennes, were felled or destroyed by fire in mass. A vast country, before covered with impenetrable woods—powerful obstacles to the movement and even the formation of hurricanes—was suddenly denuded, swept bare, stripped, and soon after, a scourge hitherto unknown struck terror over the land from Avignon to the Buches du Rhone, and thence to Merseilles, and along the whole maritime frontier. The people thought this wind a curse sent of God. They raised altars to it, and offered sacrifices to appease its rage."

Prof. Rosa, in the Polytechnic Journal for Dec., 1861, gives the following: "To supply the extraordinary demand for Italian iron occasioned by the exclusion of English iron in the time of Napoleon I. the furnaces of the valleys of Bergamo were stimulated to great activity. The ordinary production of charcoal not sufficing to feed the furnaces and the forges, the woods were felled, the corpses cut before their time, and the whole economy of the forest was deranged. At Piazzatore there was such a devastation of the woods, and consequently such an increased severity of the climate, that maize no longer ripened. An association formed for the purpose effected the restoration of the forest, and maize flourishes again in the fields of Piazzatore."

Similar ameliorations have been produced by plantations in Belgium. Thus Bande in the Reveu des Deux Mondes, makes this statement: "A spectator placed on the famous bell tower of the cathedral at Antwerp, saw not long since, on the opposite side of the Schelde, only a vast desert plain; now he sees a forest, the limits of which are confounded with the horizon. Let him enter within its shade. The supposed forest is but a system of regular rows of trees, the oldest of which is not forty years of age. These plantations have ameliorated the climate which had doomed to sterility the soil where they are planted. While the tempest is violently agitating their tops, the air below is still, and sands far more barren than the plateau of La Hague, have been transformed, under their protection, into fertile fields."—(Man and nature, p. 152.)

But we need not go beyond the limits of our own State for proof of the ameliorating influences on climates, of the destruction of forests. Attention has already been called to this by the failure of the peach crop all over our State, save a narrow strip under the lee of Lake Michigan, and by the partial destruction of our clover crop last winter. But a still more serious loss is the great damage to our wheat crop, especially in our old and well improved counties. The following extract from a valuable lecture delivered at Jackson, before a meeting of the agriculturists of Michigan, in 1864, by that veteran in the pomology of our State, T. T. Lyon, Esq., and quoted in the report of the State Board of Agriculture, for 1865, p. 251, places this subject in a clear light. "The natural result of this wholesale destruction, is manifesting itself in the higher winds, the more sudden changes, and the more extreme cold of our winters. Although in consequence of this state of affairs the peach, once almost as sure throughout our State as the apple, is now, in effect, driven under the lee of Lake Michigan; and althoug even our staple grain crop, wheat, was but two years since almost a total failure from want of shelter and protection, and though we have reason to fear that we have not yet seen the worst, the process of destruction yet goes on unchecked, and with a strange fatuity. Although the subject is one that deeply concerns us all, no measures are being taken or even seriously contemplated, to stay the growing calamity.

"Two years since, at a similar meeting, I availed myself of the opportunity to urge upon the Agriculturists of the State the importance of action in this matter. During the next winter the wheat crop of the entire State, from the want of the usual covering of snow, and the general lack of shelter from wind and sun, was diminished in amount more than one-half,—a loss to the State in a single year of more than five millions of bushels. The present winter threatens a repetition of the same calamity; and with the great breadth of wheat sown, we shall be fortunate if the amount of loss on all that part of the State lying south of the Michigan Central railroad,—a region deprived of the ameliorating influence of Lake Michigan on the southwest wind,—and comprising the richest agricultural portion of the State, was estimated at no less than three-fourths of the entire wheat crop! From what inquiries your committee have been able to make, the loss of the wheat crop alone, of this State, for the last four years, is not less than $20,000,000.

Your committee would be most happy to believe that this enormous loss springs from causes evanescent in their nature, and destined speedily to pass away, to return nevermore. But your committee are fearful that these vast losses "are but the beginning of sorrow and that the improvidence which laid open our fields to that scourge of God, the S. W. wind, by the wholesale destruction of our forests, is now only beginning to reap the fruit of that want of forethought, and that these losses can be avoided only by restoring, in part at least, the natural barriers against the wind.
